November 2019 Newsletter

Dear Parents and Students,

It is hard to believe we are heading into the holiday season already! I love walking the halls this time of year, because invariably I get a little taste of a few holiday pieces, plus many of our strings and voice students are starting to put the finishing touches on recital pieces. It is really rewarding to hear all of their hard work coming together!

Please make sure to stay up to date with us - With recitals just over a month away, there will be a lot of communication to help you be reminded of important dates and deadlines. There will be email communication about recital RSVP deadlines and also when and where your student should be for these events. These are all so important to make sure our events are well planned and musical. Following us on Facebook is also helpful, to let you know about special events and school closures for holidays.

To help ensure our students perform their very best, November Performance classes are mandatory for any students participating in December recitals. This helps the students gain the necessary performance and stage experience they need to be successful at recitals! When you receive this sign up email, please make sure you select a time and day that works for your schedule.

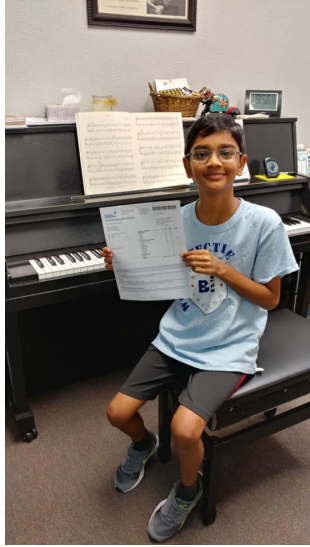

As always, I am so thankful for each of you and your students - they are such a blessing to have at our school and as we reflect on what we are thankful for this month, I am always brought back to how thankful I am for each of your families and of course our amazing teachers as well. Being able to share our love of music and teaching is a blessing.

Best Regards,
Liana Bramlett, Director
